

Staple here

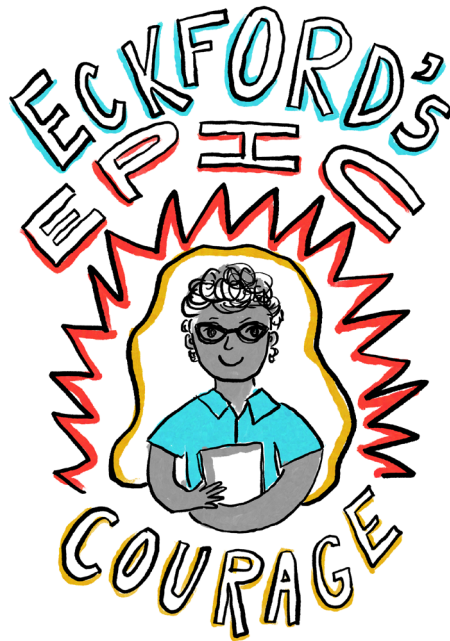

Staple here

This book belongs to:

Mini-book Option A

Staple here

Staple here

This book belongs to:

Mini-book Option A

Staple here

Staple here

This is Elizabeth Eckford. She was 15 years old. She was going to a new school.

Staple here

Staple here

This is Elizabeth Eckford. She was 15 years old. She was going to a new school.

Staple here

Staple here

Before this, there was a school for white students and a school for Black students. This was called segregation.

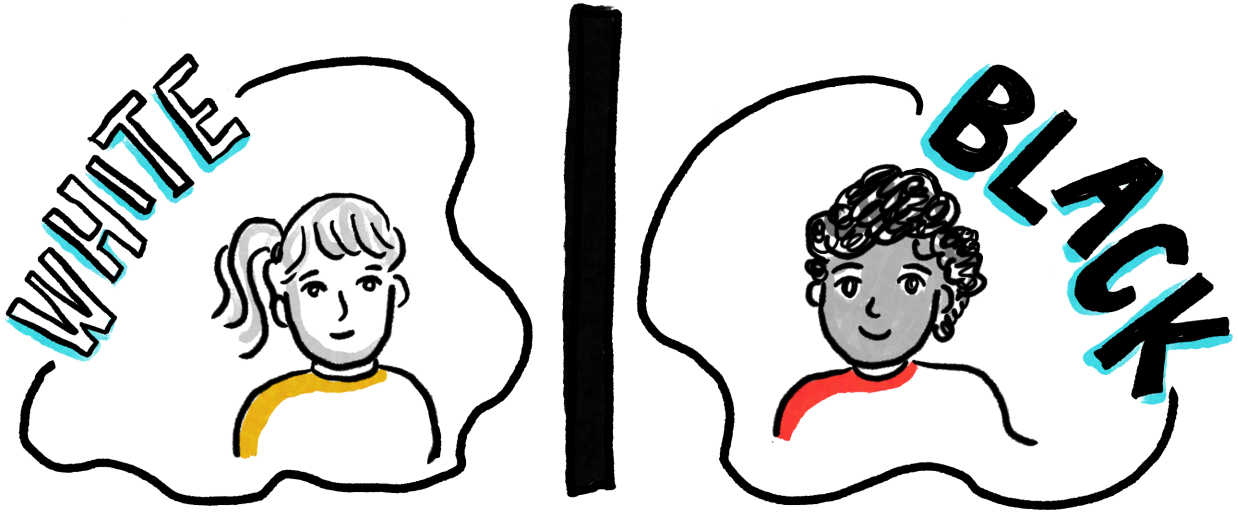

Staple here

Staple here

Before this, there was a school for white students and a school for Black students. This was called segregation.

Staple here

Staple here

There was a rule that Black and white students were not allowed to go to school together.

Staple here

Staple here

There was a rule that Black and white students were not allowed to go to school together.

Staple here

Staple here

Some people did not want her at their school. They did not like a new rule that let her go.

Staple here

Staple here

Some people did not want her at their school. They did not like a new rule that let her go.

Staple here

Staple here

Elizabeth had courage. She wanted to learn. She wanted to make new friends.

Staple here

Staple here

Elizabeth had courage. She wanted to learn. She wanted to make new friends.

Staple here

Staple here

Elizabeth was not alone. Eight other students went too. They were called the Little Rock Nine.

Staple here

Staple here

Elizabeth was not alone. Eight other students went too. They were called the Little Rock Nine.

Staple here

Staple here

When Elizabeth got to school,
she could not get in.

Staple here

Staple here

When Elizabeth got to school,
she could not get in.

Staple here

Staple here

People shouted mean words at her.

Staple here

Staple here

People shouted mean words at her.

Staple here

Staple here

She was supposed to meet her friends.
But they did not come. She was alone.

Staple here

Staple here

She was supposed to meet her friends.
But they did not come. She was alone.

Staple here

Staple here

She was scared, but she walked tall,
She did not cry, she did not run.
Elizabeth had courage.

Staple here

Staple here

She was scared, but she walked tall,
She did not cry, she did not run.
Elizabeth had courage.

Staple here

Staple here

A kind woman helped her to the bus.
The next day, she tried again.

Staple here

Staple here

A kind woman helped her to the bus.
The next day, she tried again.

Staple here

Her friends were with her.
People still said mean things.
But Elizabeth did not give up.
Elizabeth finished the school year.

Staple here

Staple here

Her friends were with her.
People still said mean things.
But Elizabeth did not give up.
Elizabeth finished the school year.

Staple here

Staple here

Staple here

Her courage helped make sure that all students are able to go to school together.

Staple here

Staple here

Her courage helped make sure that all students are able to go to school together.

Staple here

Courage is a civic virtue. Courage is doing good things, even when it is hard or scary.

Draw and write about a time you saw courage.

Staple here

Courage is

Courage is a civic virtue. Courage is doing good things, even when it is hard or scary.

Staple here

Draw and write about a time you saw courage.

Staple here

Courage is